

Starting
October

Addiction Prevention & Family Support Groups

*The Maxwell Institute
a Division of Saint Joseph's Medical Center*

The Maxwell Institute in Tuckahoe will offer weekly addiction prevention and support groups beginning in October.

The Prevention Group, held Tuesdays from 7:00 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., will focus on topics such as ways to speak to children of various age groups about alcohol and drugs and how to handle situations when other parent allow their children to use alcohol.

The Family and Friends Support Group, held Wednesdays from 7:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m., is designed to help loved ones understand the progression of addiction and its impact on families.

The groups will be facilitated by Lillian Neuman, CASAC, Director of Outreach and Prevention Education at The Maxwell Institute.

- No charge to participate in groups
- Attendance in person is preferred, but a Zoom link will be available for those who wish to participate remotely
- Groups will held at The Maxwell Institute office, 92 Yonkers Ave., in Tuckahoe
- Masks are required for in person attendance
- Preregistration via email is required. Email tezekiel@svwsjmc.org, and indicate which group you wish to attend, and if you prefer in person or remote attendance.
